TEN CENTS PER WEEK

THREE MONTHS IN JAIL ENDED FOR MRS. J. A. LILLEY

Held Here Until Released Today by Jury in Lunacy Inquest.

She Suddenly Became Confused at Union Station.

ON HER WAY TO HAWESVILLE

After three months' confinement in the county jail during which time city and court officials have endeavored to get relatives to come for her, Mrs. J. A. Lilley, a woman, whom the police took up at the Union station because they considered her helpless and unable to reach her destination, was this morning ordered sent to her former home at Smithfield, Mo., after a jury had declared that she was not a lunatic. Mrs. Lilley had $10 in money when taken into custody and the fare to Smithfield was only $11.50.

According to Deputy Jailor Harvey Martin, who became interested and corresponded with Mrs. Lilley's son, the old lady is not the least dangerous. It was shown by the evidence at the lunacy inquest that she knew where she wanted to go when taken up, and that her people were willing for her to attempt the trip alone.

Mrs. Lilley came to Paducah on the Fowler from Cairo and owned two big trunks. Leaving her baggage at the wharfboat, she went to the Union station and there became bewildered and did not know how to get her baggage and get a ticket to her destination, which she said was Hawesville. She was taken to the county jail, where she has been cared for by jail officials.

The same jury which refused to order Mrs. Lilley to the asylum was empaneled to try Mattie Morton and John Pritchett, colored, on lunacy charges. They were ordered to the asylum. Pritchett imagines an insurance company owes him $700 on an insurance policy on the lives of his children, both of whom are living. The woman is supposed to be a "crazy friend."

MRS. H. H. DULEY ALMOST OVERCOME SAVING JEWELRY

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—In a fire in her boarding house, on Fifth street, today, Mrs. H. H. Duley, wife of a Paducah physician, went back to her room to get some forgotten jewelry and was overcome by smoke. She was carried out unconscious by firemen just in time to save her life.

Law and Order Wins

Cerulean Springs, Ky., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—A decided victory was gained by the law and order element of the Third judicial district today, when the Democratic committee refused to call a primary election to nominate candidates for circuit judge and commonwealth's attorney for November 3. Had the primary been called, as was stated, night riders would undoubtedly controlled the election and such a movement was opposed by the law-abiding Democrats. Judge Cook and Attorney Smith are candidates for re-election and their supporters among the county newspapers advocated the primary this fall.

Blackhand

Chicago, Aug. 29.—Michael Diapinto, a barber, was shot and killed in his shop. A stranger opened the door and fired and escaped. Diapinto received two Black Hand letters, demanding money.

Little Miss Ella Massarang, the 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Massarang, of the Mayfield road, had her right foot burned yesterday afternoon. She was walking in the yard, when she stepped into a bed of live coals. The burns are not considered serious.

Another Incendiary Fire Causes Loss of Sixty Thousand Dollars at Murray Early This Morning

Soldiers and Volunteer Bucket Brigade Prevent Spread of Flames in Both Directions—Half Insured.

Bank of Murray, new bank building, almost completed, $10,000, no insurance.
A. Q. Knight & Son, stock of dry goods, $20,000, $12,000 insurance.
W. W. Stubblefield, clothing, $12,000, $4,000 insurance.
W. L. Whitnell, storehouse, $5,000, $1,500 insurance.
Galen Miller, storehouse, $5,000, $1,500 insurance.
Adjacent buildings and stocks damaged by fire, smoke and water, $10,000, partially insured.
J. A. Parker, jewelry store, damaged $500; insured.

Murray, Ky., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—Two business houses, containing large stocks of dry goods and clothing and the fine new building being erected by the Bank of Murray and nearly completed, were destroyed by a fire that started on the lower floor in the rear of the A. C. Knight & Son dry goods store at 1 o'clock this morning, and is generally conceded to be of incendiary origin.

That the finest and best business block in Murray was not destroyed was due to the great work of Murray's famous bucket brigade, which successfully combated the fire against great odds, and in face of the fact that citizens did not turn out for some time in response to the usual way of giving a fire alarm by discharging firearms. It was feared that night riders had made good their threat to raid the town and people stayed indoors until it was learned that there was no mob in town. Though people here are not hasty to accuse, it is generally believed that some one gained an entrance into the back door and fired the Knight store.

When first discovered, the fire had not gained much headway, but before the soldiers stationed here under Captain Carl Henderson, of Marion, who answered the first alarm, were reinforced by citizens, the Knight store was almost a total loss and the fire had spread to the building occupied by W. W. Stubblefield as a clothing store and to the new bank building. Murray's only water supply for the business section is a deep well in the court yard and the private water works system of the Murray hotel, which is in the block where the fire broke out. The gasoline engines were started going and citizens carried water buckets, tubs and other vessels taken from the stores and fought the flames. That such a force could stop a fire and confine it to three buildings was not hoped for at the outset and Chief Wood, of the Paducah department, was appealed to by Mayor Hughes. On account of the failure of the department here to get an engine to carry a special train, no help was sent, although efforts were being made to leave Paducah when information was sent that the fire was under control.

The Losses.
The Bank of Murray, the new building which was being erected by Contractor Welkel, of Paducah, and nearly complete, was probably the heaviest single loser, not a dollar of insurance being on the building, valued at $10,000. Elvies Copeland, of Paducah, was frescoing the walls.

BARDWELL CLASS OF '85 IS UNITED AFTER MANY YEARS

St. Louis, Aug. 29.—John F. Kane, of Bardwell, Ky., half of the graduating class of 1885 of Clinton college, Clinton, Ky., and Miss Emma Hicks, of Kaidia, O., the other half, will be married here tomorrow. The wedding is the culmination of a school romance that was broken up 23 years ago, when the class quit college and started out in the world. Kane is an attorney and has been practicing his profession at Bardwell, Ky. Miss Hicks became a Presbyterian church worker and took charge of a mission school at Huntsville, Tenn.

Early in 1907 Kane attended an alumni reunion at Clinton and learned that the other half of the class of '85 had not married. He opened correspondence with Miss Hicks and they spent their vacation that summer at Dawson Springs, Ky.

DUEL IN THE AIR

Chicago, Aug. 29.—Ivan Menlitch and Nicholas Vidovitch, iron workers, fought to the death, on top of a blast furnace 150 feet above the ground. They quarreled over a girl and wrestled on the small platform fifteen minutes trying to throw each other into the furnace. Menlitch finally secured a crowbar and killed his antagonist. He was arrested on the charge of murder. Hundreds of helpless spectators witnessed the fight.

yesterday and his work was half complete.

A. Q. Knight & Son's stock is conservatively estimated to have been worth $20,000, with $12,000 insurance. A small portion of the stock was carried out but badly damaged and practically worthless.

W. W. Stubblefield's stock of clothing, valued at $12,000, was damaged, but a good portion of the stock downstairs was carried out. Insurance on the stock amounted to $4,000.

The building occupied by Knight & Son was owned by W. L. Whitnell, a retired tobacco dealer, who, on account of the night rider troubles in Calloway county, has advertised all his property for sale.

Galen Miller, formerly county clerk, owned the building occupied by Stubblefield's store. Both houses were valued at $5,000, with $1,500 insurance on each.

Chunn & Hicks' clothing store, adjoining Stubblefield's on the south, was slightly damaged. The stock was damaged by being carried into the streets. Parker's jewelry store, adjoining the bank building on the west, was also damaged and the stock was carried out. The stocks were carried from all the stores in the block and the damage from this source will reach $5,000, bringing the total loss to something like $60,000, with less than $20,000 insurance. The stocks were piled in the streets and court yard. Captain Henderson's men rendered valuable assistance in guarding the stocks all night, besides their work in fighting the flames.

The fire was under control at 8:30 o'clock. Although the men fighting the fires were placed in many perilous positions but one accident occurred. H.

ALL HAVE PASSED TEACHERS' EXAM. IN CITY SCHOOLS

All of the teachers that took the examination for teachers' certificates have passed with high percents and certificates will be awarded to the following: Misses Anna Bird Stewart, Frances Clark, Ethel Hawkins, Emma Mayer, Inez Bell, Clara Winston, Lucy Moore, Mabel Roberts, Myrtle Bonable, Ernestine Lewellyn, Ruth Hall, Catherine Thomas, Myrtle Knight and Mrs. Fannie Taylor. The examiners, Mrs. John J. Dorian, Prof. J. S. Ragdale and Superintendent J. A. Carnegie, said the papers were among the best they had ever examined, and were pleased. The work will not be completed until late this afternoon, but at 2 o'clock every teacher had made a grade that warranted the announcement that all had passed. The class of certificate each teacher has won probably will not be known until Monday. Most of the teachers that took the examination are new ones.

Racer Hurt

Milan, Italy, Aug. 29.—Pietro Dorando, the disqualified winner of the Marathon race, broke his right leg in a bicycle fall and cannot race again.

REDWINE'S SKILL PICKING JURIES IS RECOGNIZED

Jackson, Ky., Aug. 29. (Special.)—During an examination by Judge Redwine this morning, Sam Clemmons said Redwine was spoken of as the most likely man to influence the jury for Beach Hargis. He had heard it said Redwine knew how to pick a jury.

BENIGN POLICY IN PHILIPPINES AMERICAN IDEA

William H. Taft Lands Men Who Sacrificed Lives and Health in Islands.

Says They Are Entitled to Places on Roll of Honor.

SPEAKS TO OHIO VETERANS

Athens, O., Aug. 29.—William H. Taft delivered a ten minute address to the civil and Spanish war veterans at the state reunion. He declared men lost their lives and health in the Philippines and they are entitled to the same gratitude the country feels toward those who lost their lives and health in the civil war. They sacrificed themselves for the maintenance of a benign policy of the country toward the Philippines, insuring them a higher civilization and opportunity to fit themselves for self-government. The men are entitled to a place in the roll of honor.

ESCAPE WAS EASY.

Leavenworth, Kan., Aug. 29.—Fred Proctor, serving a life sentence in the Kansas penitentiary for killing a woman at Shawnee, Okla., escaped. Proctor was employed in the kitchen and stole clothes of the warden's son and walked out the front door. There were $15 in the clothes. Rewards are offered and the entire police force is hunting him.

Brown Receivership

New York, Aug. 29.—Federal Judge Holt has appointed Congressman Littlefield, of Maine, receiver of A. O. Brown & company, and his bond fixed at $250,000.

Driven Out by Riders

Hopkinsville, Ky., Aug. 29.—S. P. Moseley, of Roaring Springs, who has upon more than one occasion been the victim of night riders' displeasure, has sold his farm in that neighborhood for $5,000 and is now looking for a new location.

Child Scalded

While playing in the kitchen last night about 6 o'clock, Marvin Toe, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Toe, 620 George street, overturned a pot of boiling water and scalded his body and arms. His right arm was scalded worst, but all parts of his body were scalded until the skin came off. Dr. W. R. Washburn was called and gave soothing ointments. As the child is much improved today it is thought that the injuries will not be fatal. A baby was playing with Marvin at the time, but it escaped the boiling water.

CAR BUILDERS OF I. C. EXCHANGE BY MUTUAL CONSENT

T. M. Baughn, master car builder at the Paducah shops of the Illinois Central, and C. N. Grate, holding a like position at the Louisville shops, have by agreement been transferred. Mr. Baughn has been general foreman of the car repairing department at the shops for seven years, coming here from his home in Louisville in February, 1901, during Paducah's famous "white week." He is the oldest general foreman at the local shops and has seen several master mechanics come and go. Mr. Baughn formerly held the same position in Louisville and Mr. Grate was at one time head foreman under Mr. Baughn at the Paducah shops (being promoted from that position, which is now held by George Bennett, to the general foremanship at Louisville).

The change is acceptable to Mr. Baughn because of the fact that his children live with their grandparents in Louisville and he will be with them. During his administration here Mr. Baughn has been popular, having a wide acquaintance in the city, and many friends will regret to know that he will leave. He is one of the best car builders in the country and an affable gentleman.

Mr. Grate has a family and will move to Paducah at once, as the change is to take place next Tuesday.

Mayor Smith Will Await Action of General Council Before Getting Any More Warrants For Standard

City Solicitor of Opinion That He Should See Whether Legislative Department Intends to Order Tanks Out of City.

Having secured one fine against the Standard Oil company for violating the city ordinance by storing large quantities of oil, where it is exposed to ignition from passing locomotives at Tenth and Monroe streets, the executive department of the city is disposed to await the conclusion of the general council as to the proper disposition of the plant.

"My duty was plain when I learned that the company was violating the law by storing excessive quantities of oil inside the city," said Mayor Smith, "but the purpose of the law is not to provide revenue for the city through fines, but to prevent the storage of such enormous quantities of oil inside the city. The case is appealed and should come up the latter part of September in the circuit court. Now, the question is whether, in view of the fact that the general council has the matter before it, I should proceed and secure warrants against the company every day or await the council's action. I think, if the appeal is decided in our favor, there will be no trouble in making the company move."

Mayor Smith inquired of City Solicitor Campbell what he thought. "I should wait on the general council," said the solicitor, "for this reason. The matter is before the committee and I have secured information concerning the disposition of tanks in other cities as directed by the general council and am ready to report as soon as the committee meets. Now, the council may, by ordinance of general application, compel the Standard Oil company to remove its plant from the city. In that case the procedure will be simplified. It may be that, on the other hand, the general council will decide that the company may safely remain where it is. In that event, a multitude of fines in the police court, if appealed, would place us in an embarrassing position before the court.

"As to what disposition should be made, I shall not make recommendation further than to report what I have learned. It is a simple question of what is just under the circumstances. If the presence of the tanks inside the city is an actual menace, they should be ordered moved. If they do not constitute a real, actual danger, the concern should not be needlessly harassed, but that is a matter for the general council to decide."

MANY VICTIMS OF FLOOD ARE FOUND HIDDEN IN SAND

Trinidad, Col., Aug. 29.—Eight more bodies are reported recovered from Folsom. The known dead reported are 23. It is feared the number will reach 40. Searchers are examining ruined homes and searching along the Cimmaron river. It is believed many are buried in the sands. The town is badly damaged. It is feared the food supply will fail and other towns are rushing relief.

The first train from Folsom arrived this afternoon. It required 24 hours to travel 100 miles, because of damaged tracks. Passengers report 25 bodies recovered and many missing. The dead will exceed 50.

POLICE JUDGE CROSS ASSESSES HEAVY FINE AND LEAVISON CO. TAKES APPEAL

City has been victorious and this is the third defendant that has been fined.

The firm was charged with selling non-intoxicating drinks, analyzed by Milton Goodman, a city chemist of Louisville, and found to contain over two per cent of alcohol. When the trial was called yesterday a demurrer was filed by the defense, stating that the city charter did not grant a right to tax articles that were not mentioned. The second point was that the wholesale dealers' liquor license should clothe the firm with the right to sell the beverage. The third point was that the ordinance was an unreasonable regulation.

After he had assessed the fine of $100 and costs, which is the limit prescribed by the ordinance, Judge Cross said:

"The city has been flooded with advertisements of what Judge Cross said was not intoxicating, but I want to say that I did not say that. For the past six months there have been trials of men who are alleged to have sold goods containing alcohol without a license, but in each case a jury has been chosen, and I have not dismissed a case. In several cases witnesses have sworn that they did not know what they bought, and they did not know where they bought it and the bottles did not contain any labels. Under these conditions I did instruct a jury to dismiss the case. If these advertisements are not discontinued I will issue a rule for contempt."

Mr. Carl Leigh Recovers.
Mr. Carl Leigh, who was injured on the head by diving in shallow water in Lake Michigan, is recovering rapidly and is now able to walk about the house. In a few weeks he will be able to be out on the streets. His injury will not be permanent, his many Paducah friends will be glad to learn.

CIGARET STRIKE.

Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 29.—Three Rock Island trainmen were discharged under the recent rule, prohibiting cigaret smoking. The engineers' and trainmen's union have taken it up. They claim it is a violation of their personal liberties, and the contract with the railroad. Unless the head railroad officials reinstate the men and recede the cigaret order a general strike is proposed.

Bitulithic Work.

A telegram was received this afternoon by the board of public works, announcing that work will begin Monday positively by the Southern Bitulithic company on Broadway and Jefferson street between Ninth and Eleventh streets. The machinery has been shipped and the work will be pushed so that it may be completed before bad weather.

Balloon Race

Columbus, O., Aug. 29.—Six balloons will start late this afternoon in the fourth international race. They are the Iroquois, King Edward, Stars and Stripes, Queen Louise, Ville de Dieppe and Chicago. A southerly wind prevails, which will carry the balloons northward, although they hope to reach the coast. It is feared they may fall in the Great Lakes.

S.S.S. NATURE'S PERFECT TONIC

There is scarcely any one, no matter how vigorous and healthy, who does not need a tonic sometimes. Little physical irregularities upset the system, the appetite fails, digestion is poor, the body feels tired and worn out, and other unpleasant symptoms give warning that the system is disordered and needs assistance to ward off, perhaps, some serious sickness or ailment. S. S. S. is recognized everywhere as the best of all tonics, nature's medicine, made of healing, cleansing, invigorating roots and herbs, a systemic remedy without an equal. S. S. S. has the additional value of being the greatest of all blood purifiers. It re-establishes the healthy circulation of the blood, rids the body of that tired, worn-out feeling, improves the appetite and digestion, and brings about a return of health to those whose systems have been weakened or depleted. S. S. S. acts more promptly and pleasantly than any other medicine, and those who are run down in health should commence its use at once. It will thoroughly purify the blood and tone up the system. S. S. S. is admirably suited for a systemic remedy because it is free from minerals; it may be used without harmful results by persons of any age, and no unpleasant effects ever follow.

Knights Tournament Is Promising Event.

The leading social event of this fall, rivaling previous horse show entertainments seen here, will be an innovation in Paducah and plans for its success are now in progress.

The entertainment, the first of its kind ever seen in this city, will be a revival of the joust or a knights tournament such as was portrayed by the skillful pen of Sir Walter Scott in "Ivanhoe." The date for this event of the high social life here has been set for October 6, although there might be some delay.

This new entertainment was decided upon Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of the Daughters of Confederacy with Mrs. James Keger, president. The proceeds will be used for the monument fund being raised by that society for the erection of monuments in the city.

Young men from Mayfield, Murray, Fulton, Benton and other surrounding towns will take part in the tournament, besides the young society men of Paducah. The tournament will probably be held at the West End race track and in the afternoon of August 6. The young men, disguised as knights will combat upon horseback with spears in the big arena, the winner crowning the select queen and winning her hand.

As Paducah will not have a horse show this year the tournament will draw even larger crowds. It is expected. Some of the finest breeds of horses will be seen here taking part in the show. The coming event has caused much favorable comment here and will be awaited with interest.

On the night of the tournament a grand ball will be given in the Three Links building for the contestants and their ladies.

THE STOLEN HORSE.

An Old Proverb With a New Application.

The woods are full of "so-called" remedies for Baldness. You may call anything in creation a remedy, but to use them is like locking the stable after the horse is stolen.

Baldness and Dandruff are caused by a germ—if you don't kill the germ you will kill the hair. Scientists have labored with the problem of a preventative for Baldness for many years.

Newbro's Herpicide is the product of a modern idea, and will cure Dandruff and prevent Baldness because germs cannot exist when you apply Herpicide.

Herpicide is a valuable hair dressing and scalp disinfectant as well as a cure for Dandruff.

HEART FLUTTERS

AFTER FUNCTIONS HAD CLOSED THREE MINUTES.

One Brought Back to Life by Application of Powerful Stimulant.

New York, Aug. 29.—Oscar Culver was dead for three minutes in the Eastern District hospital, Brooklyn, yesterday. Then, by means of a powerful heart stimulant and artificial respiration to get his lungs into play again, the doctors brought him back to life. His heart was beating, he was breathing late last night, but his hold on life was most precarious.

Culver is twenty-nine years old. He has been in bad health a long time, but to four weeks ago he worked in a rolling-mill. His physicians found that Culver had consumption, complicated by rheumatism, and a fortnight ago had him removed to the hospital. Last night the nurses in the ward reported that Culver was dead.

It happened luckily for Culver that Dr. Michael Jaffer, of the visiting staff, was in the office. Dr. Jaffer, of course, believed Culver was dead, but he said he wanted to see the body and try an experiment. He hurried to the ward where Culver lay, and made some of the tests for death. The pupils of Culver's eyes did not respond to irritation. He was pulseless at his wrists; his heart was not beating; he had ceased to breathe; to all appearances, he was as dead as a man could be. Still, hurriedly, Dr. Jaffer injected under the skin and over the heart of the seeming corpse one-tenth of a grain of strychnine. Instantly, too, Dr. Jaffer performed artificial respiration, trying to inflate and empty Culver's lungs systematically, as in natural breathing. Three minutes had elapsed since Miss Ryan thought Culver had died, when he sighed ever so faintly. All the doctors heard the astonishing news and hurried to his cot; they relieved each other in keeping up artificial respiration. Pretty soon, Dr. Jaffer, listening intently, heard Culver's heart flutter; then, feeling his radial artery, the doctor detected a slow, weak pulse. Pretty soon Culver breathed less weakly and his heart beat more regularly. Then he opened his eyes and stared fixedly into the world from which, by all signs known to medical men, made his departure.

"Your name is John Dobbs?"

"Yes."

"Are you the same John Dobbs who was sentenced to eight days' imprisonment for using bad language?"

"No."

"Are you the same John Dobbs who was sentenced to a couple of years' hard labor for theft?"

"No, that wasn't me, either."

"Then you have never been in prison?"

"Yes, twice."

"Ah! and how long the first time?"

"One whole afternoon."

"What!—and the second time?"

"Only one hour."

"And, pray, what offense had you committed to deserve so small a punishment?"

"I was sent to prison to whitewash a cell to accommodate a lawyer who had cheated one of his clients."

Daily Thought.

A SIMPLE ISSUE.

It looks like a simple issue that is up to the general council in reference to the Standard Oil tanks at Tenth and Monroe streets. Since the plant was ignited by sparks from a passing Illinois Central locomotive, residents and property owners of the west end have demanded that the tanks be removed from the city, because they constitute a menace to their lives and property, make the property less desirable and marketable, and increase insurance rates. The Standard Oil company desires to maintain its tanks in the heart of the city for its own convenience. As City Solicitor Campbell said, the city can compel the company to remove its tanks outside the city by a law of general application, and in his own mind it is simply a question of whether the tanks do actually constitute a menace to that part of the city. In other words, the general council has only to decide whether there is the actual danger, of which property owners and residents complain, or whether they are simply hysterical.

It should not take the members long to make up their minds. The Standard Oil company stores oil and gasoline in its tanks. Are these inflammable, or are they not? If they are, does that fact make their storage in large quantities dangerous? and does the presence of the storage tanks near the railroad, where sparks from passing engines may ignite the plant, make them more dangerous? Now we know the plant was once ignited, and that the fire chief after careful investigation recommended the removal of the plant outside the city. We know that the company proposes to take extra precautions hereafter, which in itself is an admission that the plant is dangerous. We also know that the company maintained the plant for years in open and brazen violation of the city ordinance, thus showing that the company is defiant of the law and disregardful of the safety of the city. If that plant, situated where it is, is not dangerous and a menace, why is the company promising extraordinary precautions? Other concerns and residences in that section are not promising to erect fire proof buildings, though they had better do so, if the tanks are allowed to remain.

A representative of the company showed city officials through the plant and stuck a lighted match into a quantity of the oil to show that it would put out the light. A gentleman shortly afterward ostentatiously pretended to light a pipe in the plant and he was peremptorily ordered to desist by an employee, who said the company has the strictest rules against smoking around the premises. It seems that the chief danger is from the gases generated in such a plant. The ground is soaked with oil for a depth of more than a foot, and in spite of the greatest caution, it is never known when a catastrophe is pending. It is said by those acquainted with the rules of the Standard Oil company, that it would frighten an ordinary man out of his wits if he knew the constant danger of fire or explosion.

Now, why doesn't the company wish to move?

It is more convenient for delivery to be in the center of the city. The Standard Oil company's tanks themselves are in no more danger in the heart of the city than they would be anywhere else on a railroad. If the tanks in Paducah ignite from a locomotive and the whole city is burned, the Standard Oil company will not be liable for its neighbor's damages, and its own loss will not be more than it would be if the plant was isolated, because it must have its plant near the railroad, anyway. It can afford to jeopardize the city for its own convenience, as long as its own risk is not increased. It's a clear proposition from the Standard Oil company's point of view: it will stay where it is most convenient as long as it can.

Paducah citizens, who have been traveling since this question came up, have observed that in most other places they passed through Standard Oil tanks are located outside the city limits, and in every case they are isolated, something easy for travelers passing through a town to ascertain, as the tanks are always along the railroad.

THE NORMAL SCHOOLS.

Representatives of the state normal schools have decided to bring suit against state officials to enforce the appropriation of $500,000 authorized by the last legislature. The attorney general held that the appropriation measure was unconstitutional and the administration refused to further embarrass the state by creating a greater deficit, as the last administration left considerably more warrants outstanding than cash reserve, and the legislature, either carelessly or designedly to embarrass the present administration, neglected to provide the money it so bountifully appropriated for educational purposes.

We do not see what there is for either side to this controversy to do other than what it has decided on. Since the legislature didn't provide the money, and there is none on hand, and the attorney general thinks the state is not bound, the administration is acting wisely in refusing to conform to the directions of the legislature.

The representatives of the normal schools, since the legislature has authorized such an appropriation, would be doing less than their duty in not, at least, ascertaining whether the legal opinion of the attorney general has the sanction of the courts. In other words, the administration is husbanding the state's meager resources, which is its duty; and the school officials are single-mindedly seeking to promote the cause of education, which is their duty. If the courts compel the administration to proceed in conformity with the instructions of the legislature, regardless of lack of funds, the administration is thereby absolved from responsibility, and the legislature must assume the burden of thus further stripping the state of its available resources.

If the courts uphold the attorney general the school men will have done their whole duty, and thrown the failure of the normal school project, where it belongs, on the general assembly.

OUR RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE FAILURE OF JUSTICE.

William Traverser Jerome, who occupies the position of public prosecutor in New York, corresponding to our commonwealth's attorney, has just been exonerated by a commission of the charge of failure to do his duty in prosecuting insurance officials and other big offenders; but as usual much of the stigma will remain. At this distance it is impossible to judge whether Mr. Jerome failed to justify early impressions of his fearlessness and honor, or whether those charges were preferred against him by the tools of influential offenders, who found it necessary to embarrass and compromise the prosecutor. It is a local matter, anyway. The only interest we can have in it, is the lesson it teaches. We should see to it that our commonwealth's attorney is something more than a successful politician. We should choose a man who is fearless and of unassailable integrity, a man who holds honor above material success. When we complain that our officials are tampered with and justice perverted, we should recall our own responsibility for placing in positions of trust, men who can be tampered with. Candidates for commonwealth's attorney and other officials will be chosen this fall, and citizens of this county will have something to say in the matter.

"You keep in touch with the world, do you, Oscar? It is common-sense." "I take a Washington paper." It relieves the monotony, and I can see where the regiments are moving and whether my old captain is yet out of the hospital and what happened to my lieutenant in his court martial about the pay accounts. One must observe the world—yes. At the postoffice back there—"He jerked his head to indicate—"It is against the law to sell whisky in a postoffice, so that storekeeper with the red nose and small yellow eyes keeps it in a brown jug in the back room."

"To be sure," laughed Armitage. "I hope it is a good article." "It is vile," replied Oscar. "His brother makes it up in the hills, and it is as strong as wood-lice."

"Moonshine! I have heard of it. We must have some for rainy days."

It was a new world to John Armitage, and his heart was as light as the morning air as he followed Oscar along the ruddy mountain road. He was in Virginia, and somewhere on this soil, perhaps in some valley like the one through which he rode, Shirley Claiborne had gazed upon blue distances, with ridge rising against ridge, and dark blue covered slopes like these he saw for the first time. He had left his affairs in Washington in a sorry muddle, but he faced the new day with a buoyant spirit and did not trouble himself to look very far ahead. He had a definite business before him. His ex-brothers were reassuring on that point. The fact that he was in a sense a fugitive did not trouble him in the least. He had no intention of allowing Jules Chauvenet's assassins to kill him or of being locked up in a Washington jail as the false Baron von Kissel. If he admitted that he was not John Armitage, it would be difficult to prove that he was anybody else—a fact which Jules Chauvenet probably knew perfectly well.

On the whole, he was satisfied that he had followed the wisest course thus far. The broad panorama of the morning hills communicated to his spirit a growing elation. He began singing in German a ballad that recited the sorrows of a pale maiden pining in a dark tower on the Rhine, whence her true knight rescued her after many and fearsome adventures. On the last stave he ceased abruptly, and an exclamation of wonder broke from him. They had been riding along a narrow trail cut across a long timbered ridge that lay between them and Armitage's property. The path was rough and steep, and the low hanging pine boughs and heavy underbrush increased the difficulty of ascent. Straining to the top, a new valley, hidden until now, was disclosed in long and beautiful vistas.

Armitage dropped the reins upon the neck of his panting horse.

"It is a fine valley—yes?" asked Oscar.

"It is a possession worthy of the noblest gods!" replied Armitage. "There is a white building with colonnades away over there. Is it the house of the reigning deity?"

"It is not, sir," answered Oscar, who spoke English with a kind of dogged precision, giving equal value to all words. "It is a vast hotel where the

SUMMER ILLS

The exhausting heat of the Summer weather causes untold suffering and misery to thousands of men, women and children. Deaths occur in all sides from diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera morbus, typhoid and other fevers, due in a great number of cases to impure water and the consumption of unripe fruits by those whose systems and stomachs are not in a healthy condition.

The many ills that come during the hot, sultry weather can be avoided by keeping the body strong and healthy with Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, the great body-builder.

If all were more careful to keep the system in a vigorous, healthy condition the germs of these diseases could not obtain a foothold. Leading doctors agree that Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has no equal as a destroyer of poisonous germs in the body. It is indorsed by Clergymen of every faith, nurses and doctors of all schools, as a positive cure for dyspepsia, indigestion, nervous prostration, all diseases of the throat and lungs, every form of stomach trouble; malaria, chills, fever and all run-down weakened, diseased conditions of the body, brain and muscle. It is a heart tonic, blood purifier and promoter of health and long life; makes the old hale and hearty; the young vigorous and strong.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain; great care being used to have every kernel thoroughly malted, thus destroying the germ and producing a predigested liquid food in the form of a malt essence, which is the most effective tonic stimulant and invigorator known to science; softened by warmth and moisture its palatability and freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach.

If weak and run down, take a teaspoonful four times a day in half a glass of milk or water. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is sold throughout the world by druggists, grocers and dealers, or shipped direct for $1.00 per bottle. In need of advice, write Consulting Physician, Duffy Malt Whiskey Company, Rochester, New York, stating your case fully. Our doctors will send you advice free, together with a handsome illustrated, medical booklet containing some of the many thousands of gratifying letters received from men and women in all walks of life, both old and young, who have been cured and benefited by the use of the World's greatest medicine.

rich spend much money. That place at the foot of the hills—do you see?—it is there they play a foolish game with sticks and little balls."

"Golf? Is it possible?" "There is no doubt of it, sir. I have seen the fools myself—men and women. The place is called Storm valley."

Armitage slapped his thigh sharply, so that his horse started.

"Yes, you are probably right, Oscar. I have heard of the place. And those houses that lie beyond there in the valley belong to gentlemen of taste and leisure who drink the waters and ride horses and play the foolish game you describe with little white balls."

"I could not tell it better," responded Oscar, who had dismounted, like a good trooper, to rest his horse.

"And our place—is it below there?" demanded Armitage.

"It is not, sir. It lies to the west. But a man may come here when he is lonesome and look at the people and the gentlemen's houses. At night it is a pleasure to see the lights, and sometimes, when the wind is right, there is music of bands."

"Poor Oscar!" laughed Armitage. His mood had not often in his life been so high.

On his flight northward from Washington and southward toward the Atlantic coast, the thought that Shirley Claiborne and her family must now believe him an ignoble scoundrel had wrought misgivings and pain in his heart, but at least he would soon be near her—even now she might be somewhere below in the lovely valley, and he drew off his hat and stared down upon what was glorified and enchanted ground.

"Let us go," he said presently.

Oscar saluted, standing bridle in hand.

TOBACCO NEWS

Louisville Tobacco Market.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 29.—The Louisville Tobacco Warehouse company issued the following review of the leaf tobacco market:

"The sales on our market for one week, including today, amounted to 539 hogheads, divided as follows: Burley, 398; dark, 141."

"Burley.—The market continues to pursue the even tenor of its way. The small offerings and the unusually small stocks that are available for future offerings do not call forth any eager demand, and prices remain practically unchanged. The present requirements of the trade seem within the bounds of the supply, and there seems no disposition to anticipate the results that may follow the unprecedented curtailment in the burley crop."

"Dark.—The market for this week for all grades of dark tobacco, both of the fired and unfired types, may be described as 'placid,' and as compared with last week without any change worth of note."

Regarding Damaged Tobacco.

All damaged tobacco stored with this district is being resampled at the warehouses and will be regraded and again offered for sale. Types from surrounding towns, where sales are made for the warehouses at Paducah, are sending in types, while the damaged hogheads stored in Paducah warehouses are being regraded.

It is claimed that there is less damaged tobacco stored in Paducah than at any point in the district and that the farmers will not suffer very great losses on that account. Things are quite different at Wickliffe, Murray and other places, and there are hogheads which tobacco manufacturers say they cannot use and the only buyer left is the snuff manufacturer.

Colored Boy Drowns

Leon Graham, a fourteen-year-old colored boy, was drowned yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock in the Ohio river at the foot of Triamble street. Graham was in swimming with other boys when he reached a stepoff, and his frightened companions ran out of the water without giving him aid. Graham lived at Tenth and Husbands streets. The boy screamed for help, but before assistance could reach him he had drowned. White men dove for the body and used a spike pole in the effort to fish him out, but the efforts were fruitless. Until noon the river was dragged, but the body had not been recovered. Employees of the Paducah Pole and Timber company tried to locate the body, but did not succeed.

Both pledged themselves to administer justice without fear or favor, if elected to the office. Both candidates are popular speakers, and they were roundly applauded by their adherents. Many other candidates were present, but the speaking was limited to the two candidates for circuit judge.

SOLDIERS PROTECT ROADS PROPERTY

Adjutant General Johnston Talks About Case.

Militiamen Had No Intention of Stealing, He Says—Not Surrendered.

SUSPICION OF A TRAP LAID

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 29.—According to information which was gathered by Adjutant General P. P. Johnston, when he was in Guthrie a week ago, the two militiamen who are under arrest there, charged with breaking into a railroad car, were doing nothing except protecting the property of the railroad. The incident occurred several days ago. The soldiers were on duty along the railroad track under orders to watch and protect the property of the railroad.

Just a short time before that night riders had burned three depots on the Illinois Central railroad and were threatening the Louisville and Nashville railroad's property. The soldiers were instructed to protect rolling stock. They claim they were walking along the track when they found a freight car with the door open. One of the soldiers entered the car, he says, to see if there was anything or anybody in it. The civil authorities swooped down on them about that time and charged them with breaking into the car. The car contained whisky, which was not touched by the soldiers, but this is being used against them.

General Johnston says it may have been a trap laid for the soldiers in order to create opposition to them and put them in a bad attitude to the public.

Arrest Not Permitted.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Aug. 29.—Officers from Guthrie arrived here and attempted to arrest Private Carl Meacham and W. R. Brashear, of Earlinton, on a charge of taking a case of whisky from a car at Guthrie. Lieutenant Winfree, in command, refused to allow the soldiers to be arrested and the officers left.

Major E. B. Bassett, in command of the western division of the troops, says he has given orders that the men be protected from arrest, as he does not propose to place their lives in such jeopardy as the Logan county negroes who were lynched while held on trivial charges.

Major Bassett says he will order an investigation by military court and if the men are guilty will turn them over to the civil authorities at the proper time. They were under bonds of $250 each, but the Guthrie officers are displeased because they were removed from service at Guthrie a few days ago. The men deny their guilt and charge that a trap was set to put them in a compromising position.

"NEAR BEER" FINE IN POLICE COURT

Proprietor of Eighth of August Stand Muled.

Selling Liquor, Containing Less Than Two Per Cent of Alcohol Is the Charge.

JURY ASSESSED $75 PENALTY.

One long step towards the abatement of the selling of drinks with less than two per cent of alcohol was taken yesterday afternoon in a session of police court when a jury in the case of Robert Adams, colored, returned a verdict of guilty and fixed the fine at $75 and costs. Adams and Clark, colored, ran a stand at the "Rollaway" colored skating rink, August 8, and sold a drink with a per cent of 1.2 of alcohol, according to a chemical analysis. Approval on all sides was heard of the fine, and in dismissing the jury Police Judge D. A. Cross said: "Gentlemen I wish to thank you for your services, and I believe you have done your duty as it should have been done."

The executive department of the city has much trouble over the sale of "near beer," and it has been almost impossible to secure a conviction August 8 when a liberal amount of various liquors with high sounding names were sold. License Inspector R. B. Hicks secured seven samples and shipped them to Milton Goodman, assistant city chemist, for chemical analysis. Among the samples were two bottles of "Temperine" purchased from Adams, and by volume one bottle had 1.19 per cent of alcohol, and the second a percentage of 1.24 by volume. On the label was printed: "Contains less than 1/2 of one per cent alcohol."

In the trial License Inspector Hicks testified to purchasing the bottles, marking them and shipping them to the chemist. The bottles were returned and he identified them. Patrolman Tobe Owen followed and he swore that he rented the rink to Adams, but warned him not to sell the drink. Milton Goodman, the chemist, testified that he analyzed the amber colored liquid according to a method recommended by the pure food department of the government, and identified the bottles.

Adams, the defendant and his partner, Clark, took the stand and they admitted selling the beverage to Mr. Hicks, and made the plea that they were ignorant of the percentage of alcohol. Herman Friedman, a member of the firm of A. M. Laevison & company, was sworn for the defense and he testified that there were two standards of "Temperine" as manufactured by his firm: one contained a slight trace of alcohol, while the second has less than one per cent of alcohol. He said it was his intention to sell the weaker standard to Adams.

After brief arguments the case was given to the jury composed of: Gardner Gilbert, George Lehnhard, James Shrk, John Clark, Frank Diegel and George Augustus. The jury was out not over five minutes, and returned with a verdict of guilty, fixing the fine at $75 and the costs. The ordinance prescribes a fine of not less than $25 or more than $100. The city was represented by City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., and City Attorney Arthur Y. Martin. Mayor James P. Smith and Chief of Police Collins were interested spectators. Chief Collins has announced that arrests will follow of any person caught selling "imitation beer," and a close watch will be kept.

Republican Leaders Fear For Overconfidence.

Walter Wellman Shows Immense
Gains Necessary to Give Victory to Democrats.

FIGURES OUT BAD FOR BRYAN.

(By Walter Wellman.)

The Record-Herald says: Confidence in the election of Judge Taft is very strong among the Republican leaders. Some of the best informed men in the country like President Roosevelt, Postmaster General Meyer and National Chairman Hitchcock tell me they believe the only danger lies in over-confidence and in the apathy which usually accompanies it. If the Republican voters throughout the north can be roused by a fear that Bryan is likely to win they believe a great majority of the so-called doubtful states will give their electoral votes to Judge Taft.

For this reason the most astute of the Republican leaders, from the president down, are not averse to the coming of what we generally call "a Republican scare" over Bryan's prospects. Indeed, they look upon an alarm and an awakening as a necessary prelude to Republican triumph in November. President Roosevelt and his advisers do not frown upon the publication of facts concerning minor factors of the campaign which make for Bryan. They do not look upon such publications as improper or hurtful—rather the contrary.

Men who make it their business, either as political leaders or observers, to study conditions in the nation as a whole know that the present campaign presents two dominant, salient aspects:

First—The country as shown by all elections of recent years, is normally overwhelmingly Republican.

Second—Certain factors are at work which tend toward diminution, and possibly in some states toward the disappearance, of Republican majorities.

In other words, there are more Republicans than Democrats in the country, and this is particularly true of the northern states, in which the presidential battle must be fought out. This normal Republican preponderance is a great, central, important fact. It may easily be a controlling fact. But it is a negative fact. It is an existing condition. Every one knows it. There is no news or particular interest in citing the figures which show it.

The News.

The news of the campaign, the matters of vital interest to every leader and every observer, are found in the other equation of the problem—in the factors which make toward change, toward weakening of the known Republican preponderance. This is why so much of the news and gossip of the campaign consists of information concerning those factors which hint of possible Democratic gains. Every one must recognize this fact and understand that such minor factors may be pointed out and discussed without at all conceding that they mean "revolution." That which every one wants to know, Republican as well as Democrat, is how far these minor factors promise to go in breaking down the stone walls of Republican majorities. If there are such factors, there is no campaign. If a great fortress is besieged, the news of the campaign consists not of statistics as to the strength of the defense, for these are known in advance, but as to the progress, if any, which the attacking cohorts are making. And the reports of the war correspondent must necessarily deal much more with the latter than with the former.

Republican confidence, of course, is based largely upon the magnificent physical strength of their fortress, upon their great normal preponderance in most of the states which the enemy must conquer if victory is to perch upon his banners. Let some observers should overlook the importance of this strength, of this existing condition, it is well to refresh the memory, for as the campaign goes on this static fact is one which must necessarily be often taken into consideration. 600 votes in 1900. McKinley had over Bryan 850,000. In a total vote of 13,500,000 in 1904 Roosevelt had over Parker 2,500,000. In the northern states alone, omitting the so-called "solid south" but including Missouri, Kentucky and Maryland, Roosevelt's plurality over Parker was 3,050,000. In 1900 Bryan carried only four northern states—Colorado, Idaho, Montana and Nevada—and in 1904 Parker carried no northern state. In 1906 237 representatives in congress were elected in the northern states, and only 47 of these were Democrats.

Since the presidential election of 1904 elections for governor or other officials have been held in 29 northern states, the Republicans carrying 25 states, with aggregate pluralities of $56,000, while the Democrats carried four states, with aggregate pluralities of $7,000.

Bryan's Task

The foregoing rapid survey of recent election results presents in vivid fashion the basis of Republican confidence in the success of their national ticket this year. It gives an idea of the magnitude of the task which lies before the Democrats in their efforts to bring about a revolution—of the great strength of the fortress which they are assailing. Looking over the figures, every fair-minded man will be forced to admit the task is a difficult one, though no one can say it is impossible. It seems more difficult, when we take into consideration another static factor, which is the party habit of a great majority of men. Just now it is the fashion to speak and write much of the independence of voters. It is just now a favorite notion with many observers that party ties rest more lightly than ever before on many citizens. This may be true as to a small proportion of them. It is true of a larger proportion in state or local elections. In national elections nine out of ten voters the country through adhere almost invariably to the party of their habitual choice. Revolutions are always possible, but the causes thereof must be strong ones. The scientific method of ascertaining how the country is going to vote in a national election is to do just what we are doing here. We have heard talk of an impending revolution in the west, but so far as the east is concerned they feel no anxiety. They say they will hold New York, Connecticut, New Jersey and Delaware without any trouble. Their confidence in the national result is based upon their knowledge of the great losses they could suffer in the west and still win. Holding the east without a break, the Republicans figure that the absolutely sure electoral votes for Taft are as follows:

Connecticut	7
Delaware	3
Maine	3
Massachusetts	16
Michigan	17
New Hampshire	4
New Jersey	12
New York	39
North Dakota	4
Oregon	4
Pennsylvania	34
Rhode Island	4
Utah	3
Vermont	4
West Virginia	7
Wyoming	3
Total	104

With this assured basis, Taft would need only 78 more votes. The Republican leaders will not admit that there is more than a faint shadow of doubt about the following states:

Ohio	23
Illinois	27
Iowa	13
Wisconsin	13
Kansas	10
Maryland	8
Minnesota	11
South Dakota	4
Washington	5
Total	114

And they believe Taft's chances are better than Bryan's in most of the following:

Indiana	15
California	10
Colorado	5
Nebraska	8
Idaho	3
Montana	3
Total	44

The conclusion which eastern Republicans draw from this consideration of the situation is that nothing but a country-wide revolution or stupor of overconfidence on the part of the Republican masses can lead to Taft's defeat.

While it is admitted there is much to commend the foregoing estimates, careful and neutral observers will withhold their judgment till the campaign has further developed and they shall have an opportunity to make painstaking investigation over a wide area.

New Connors Has It Figured Out That
Bryan Will Win by 100,000—
And He Is Confident.

New York, Aug. 29.—National Chairman Norman E. Mack and State Chairman William E. Connors, of the Democratic party, held an important conference here today over the situation in New York state and with special reference to the differences now existing between Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, and Senator Pat H. McCarrren, of Kings county. Since his arrival here from the west Mr. Mack had a talk with Mr. Murphy and sought to arrange a settlement of the differences now existing between Mr. Murphy and Senator McCarrren.

It is hoped by Democratic leaders that Chairman Mack will succeed in effecting a truce between the two leaders until after the national election. Neither Mr. Mack or Mr. Connors would discuss any phase of the present efforts at settlement before going into conference. The organization of the eastern headquarters of the national committee is being rapidly completed and Mr. Mack conferred today with several committeemen from the east regarding the selection of an eastern chairman. While several names have been mentioned in connection with this office, Mr. Mack said today that no one had been determined upon.

After his conference with Mr. Mack State Chairman Connors opened the state headquarters at the Hoffman House. Mr. Connors said: "Bryan will carry the state by 100,000 plurality. I am confident of that."

Prisoners Pray Sincerely But With the Use of Slang Sometimes.

Recalling days in childhood when he knelt with his little head on his mother's knee, the horse thief, the embezzler, the murderer and the forger repeats the little prayer with which everyone is familiar. At times the prayers are of the prisoner's own composition, and often they are crude and full of slang, but apparently sincere.

"Now I lay me down to sleep;"
"I pray the Lord my soul to keep."
"If I should die before I wake,"
"I pray the Lord my soul to take."

That simple prayer of childhood days was heard murmuring out of a prisoner's cell last night at the county jail. According to the officers at the jail this is not an uncommon thing. In fact there are several prisoners in the county institution who read the Bible constantly, and now doubt there are ministers.

After meditating day after day upon the crimes they have committed, men who have never prayed before, give way to their feelings and drop down to their knees. It is their desire to tell their sorrows to someone. Most of the prisoners have Bibles or access to them, and often the ignorant prisoners will be found eagerly listening to reading of the chapters. Disputes in religion do not arise there. Few have any doctrinal opinions.

GOV. BECKHAM

So Declare His Friends, Who Think
Cantrill's Friends Started Story
Because Cantrill is Losing Ground.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 29.—Just how the report started the ex-Governor Beckham would be a candidate for congress in this district is not known, and no one has yet been able to ascertain who would be benefited by such a report. Governor Beckham himself has been away from the city for several days, but his close friends here say there is absolutely no truth in the report. It is true that the ex-governor and Campbell Cantrill have not been on friendly terms politically for several years and it may be that Cantrill's friends, having an idea that Beckham might announce himself and secure the Franklin county delegates in an endeavor to defeat Cantrill, started the rumor for the purpose of positively ascertaining what Beckham intended to do. The district contains eight counties—Bourbon, Fayette, Franklin, Henry, Odham, Owen and Woodford—and county mass conventions will be held next Saturday to select delegates to the district convention the following week. W. P. Kimball, the present congressman of Fayette county, and J. Campbell Cantrill, of Scott county, are the only candidates for the Democratic nomination.
